VARIOUS ARTISTS MILES ESPANOL NEW SKETCHES OF SPAIN

KOCH / ROOTS/RETRO

- In May 2010, a group of Miles Davis alumni, New York's finest Latin Jazz players, and a contingent of exceptional Spanish flamenco musicians, gathered at Sear Sound Studios in Manhattan for an unprecedented recording event.
- 2 CDs of material were recorded, blending two different categories of repertoire: * New interpretations and arrangements of Miles classics from Sketches Of Spain ('Concierto de Aranjuez', 'Saeta/ Pan Piper' medley, 'Solea'), Kind Of Blue ('Flamenco Sketches'), and Someday My Prince Will Come ('Teo' aka 'Teo/Neo'). * New compositions by principals in the sessions - Chick Corea, Jack DeJohnette, John Scofield, Gonzalo Rubalcaba, etc. - that enhance and extend the musical concepts into the multicultural language of 21st century jazz.
- A veritable who's who of jazz appear on the album - extensive service to Australian media and already attracting huge attention in key o'seas and online media.

VHS OR BETA DIAMONDS AND DEATH

SHOCK / ALTERNATIVE

- Hailing originally from Louisville, KY, but having lived in Brooklyn, NY, the duo of Mark Palgy and Craig Pfunder release their new studio album 'Diamonds And Death' locally through Shock. The new surroundings exerted a powerful influence on the predominantly electronic grooves of their first full-length since 2007's 'Bring on the Comets' that featured the single 'Can't Believe A Single Word'.
- The other key influence on VHS or Beta's revitalized sound is their work as DJs and remix producers. Since 2008, the duo has put its distinctive stamp on cuts for artists like My Morning Jacket, Tegan and Sara and Hussle Club, garnering significant attention for their remix of The Juan MacLean's 2008 barnstormer 'Happy House'.
- The first single 'Breaking Bones' features an amazing clip getting attention around the world.
- Extensive service of album, singles and clips to Australian media, flowthrough from online and o'seas activity.

STRANGE BOYS LIVE MUSIC

ROUGH TRADE / ALTERNATIVE

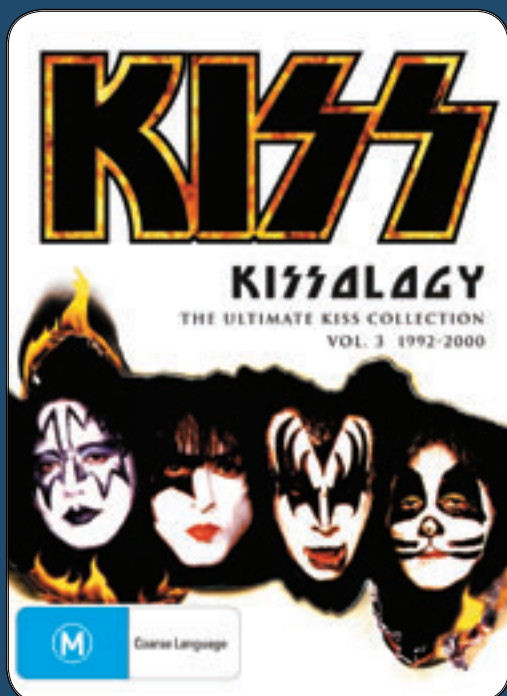

- Rough Trade is excited to announce Strange Boys' third album 'Live Music' (as in, living the music), the follow-up to 'The Strange Boys' and Girls' Club (2009) and 'Be Brave' (2010). Half of 'Live Music' was recorded in April 2011 at the Austin home of producer/Spoon drummer Jim Eno. The second half was recorded in December 2010 at producer Mike McHugh's Distillery, the same studio that 'Be Brave' was recorded in.
- The Strange Boys are an American rock 'n' roll band based in Austin, Texas, who offering up a garage rock, punk and old school R&B tinged slobbering feast of sounds. The Strange Boys have toured alongside acts such as Darker My Love, Fucked Up, Crystal Antlers, Spoon, Deerhunter and Julian Casablancas.
- The core of the band features brothers Ryan Sambol (vocals, guitar, harmonica, piano) and Phillip Sambol (bass), Greg Enlow (guitar) and Mike La Franchi (drums). Jenna Thornhill-DeWitt (Mika Miko) and Tim Presley (White Fence) contributed saxophone and guitar respectively, with both adding vocals on various tracks.

RONNIE HAWKINS
FORTY DAYS
SNAPPER / ROCK

- Continuing... Complete Rock'n'Roll - A series from Snapper of budget-priced albums from classic Rock'n'Roll stars. Striking artwork, comprehensive sleeve notes and original recordings.

- Hawkins is one of the truly legendary figures of Rockabilly and R'n'R. Although his crossover commercial successes have been relatively few and far between, his influence - notably on the Canadian Rock scene (he has lived in Canada for more than fifty years) - is immeasurable, the most renowned line-up of his ever-changing backing group, The Hawks, famously going on to world acclaim as The Band.

- This compilation features Ronnie's first two Roulette LPs, 'Ronnie Hawkins' (1958) and 'Mr Dynamo' (1960) in their entirety (NB: these are widely acknowledged as his finest recordings), plus a quartet of genuine collectors' rarities in the shape of two non-album singles.

HAIL MARY MALLON
ARE YOU GONNA
EAT THAT?
RHYMESAYERS / HIPHOP/RAP

- After years of performing live together and appearing on each other's solo albums, critically acclaimed mc's/producers Aesop Rock and Rob Sonic, along with DJ Big Wiz, come together as Hail Mary Mallon and deliver their Rhymesayers debut Are You Gonna Eat That?

- The name and album title are inspired by Mary Mallon aka Typhoid Mary, the first person in the U.S. identified as a healthy carrier of the pathogen associated with typhoid fever. Mary Mallon was presumed to have infected 53 people, three of whom died, over the course of her career as a cook. She spent three years in quarantine, which is where she died.

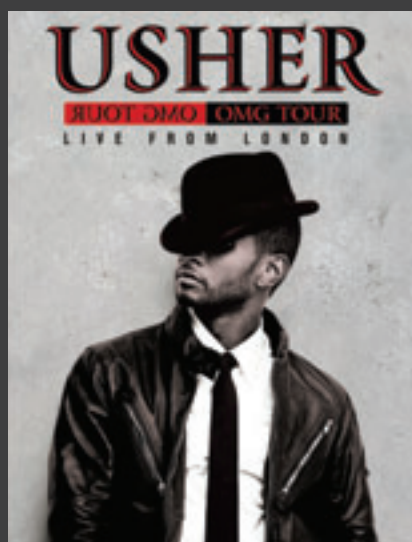

- Are You Gonna Eat That? is full of powerful dense production and witty word play courtesy of Aesop Rock and Rob Sonic. Add some turntable wizardry from DJ Big Wiz and this trio is destined to be as infectious as Typhoid Mary herself.

DAVID LYNCH
CRAZY CLOWN TIME
 SUNDAY BEST / ALTERNATIVE

PPD: $15.98

CD: SBESTCD46

- Visionary filmmaker David Lynch will make his solo debut as a musical artist this Spring with 'Crazy Clown Time'. Produced and written by Lynch, the album's 14 original songs spotlight him on guitar and vocals.
- Lynch recorded Crazy Clown Time over several months at his own Asymmetrical Studio with engineer Dean Hurley, who contributes guitar and drums to several songs. The recording process, Lynch recalls, was filled with happy creative accidents. "There were so many accidents; this album should be in the hospital."
- The tracks released last year hint at the album's range. The driving beat that powers "Good Day Today" also fuels "Stone's Gone Up," "Noah's Arc" and "Strange and Unproductive Thinking." While, the menacing shuffle of "I Know" also sends chills through "So Glad," "Football Game" and "Pinky's Dream", which features Karen O of the Yeah Yeah Yeahs
- Through the years, Lynch has collaborated frequently with others on various musical projects – composer Angelo Badalamenti (Twin Peaks), Polish pianist Marek Zebrowski (Inland Empire), plus Sparklehorse and Danger Mouse (Dark Night of the Soul). Crazy Clown Time, however, marks the first time Lynch steps into the spotlight alone.
